MEMORANDUM

TO: All Immigration Judges
All Court Administrators

FROM: Print Maggard
Chief Immigration Judge (Acting)

SUBJECT: Pro Bono Liaison Judges

This memorandum supersedes and replaces the September 23, 2015, memorandum entitled "Pro Bono Liaison Judges."

As provided in Operating Policy and Procedures Memorandum \(OPPM\) 08-01 (Guidelines for Facilitating Pro Bono Legal Services), an Immigration Judge in each Immigration Court should be designated the "pro bono liaison judge" who represents the judges of that court in interactions with outside entities regarding matters involving pro bono legal representation.

The purpose of pro bono liaison judges is to encourage and facilitate pro bono legal services and improve the level and quality of pro bono legal representation before the Immigration Courts. This role is defined by:

- meeting, at least once a year, with local pro bono legal service providers to discuss means of improving pro bono legal representation;
- developing and refining local procedures to encourage and facilitate access to pro bono legal representation;
- facilitating discussion between government and pro bono legal service providers;
- participating in pro bono training programs; and
- serving on EOIR's Committee on Pro Bono, which meets at least once a year.

Please see OPPM 08-01 for further information regarding the role of pro bono liaison judges. Keeping in mind the purpose of pro bono liaison judges, their role does not extend to addressing case-specific matters or providing case-related information.

The Office of Legal Access Programs is available to provide assistance to the pro bono liaison judges on matters relating to access to pro bono legal services, as appropriate.

The following Immigration Judges have been selected to serve as pro bono liaison judges for their respective Immigration Courts, effective immediately, through July 31, 2016.
